(MORNING, EVENING AND SUNDAY)

By THE WASHINGTON TIMES Co. HUTCHINS BUILDING NORTHEAST CORNER TENTH AND D STR

Telephones-Editorial Rooms, 488
-Lusiness Office, 1640 NEW YORK CFFICE, 300 TRACT BUILDING Monthly, by Carrier-

Merning and Sunday ... Thirty-five Cents Evening Thirty Cents Evening and

BY MAIL POSTAGE PREPAID Merning, Evening and Sunday ....... Morning and Sunday ......350

WASHINGTON, SUNDAY, APRIL 11.

A Rough Outlook.

Between the "devil" of the trusts and the "deep sea" of foreign profest and into sympathy for its unpleasant predica ment in connection with the Dingley bill.

To begin with, it has become evident to the Republican experts of the Treasury Department that, like its antetype, the McKinley bill, the present measure is "an act to reduce the revenues." They do not believe that, if rassed, it would produce 50 per cent of the Dingley estimate during the first year of its operation. This, taken in conjunction with Treasury facts already published in The Times, would involve a natonal shortage of over $158,000,000 at the end of the first fiscal year of the new Administration. The startling prospect of another bond issue, or, alternatively, the coinage of the seigniorage silver in the Treasury vaults, stares the Republican party in the face. There appears to be but one practicable, even partial, escape from the situation, and that is to remodel the Dingley bill and make it a revenue It is quite peedless to say that this will not be done. The Dingley bill is not yet revenue destroying enough to satisfy the voracity of its proposed beneficiaries There is as steady a pressure from inter ests demanding enrichment at the cost and loss of the people, as there is indigment protest against the entire scheme from all other sources. The financial and monopoly powers which joined to make have its pound of flesh. To the latter the question of public revenue is one of complete indifference, so that the fiscal system enacted enables it to gather mearned wealth by grinding the people. To the former it is the vital consideration. The money power is heart and soul for such a measure as the Dingley bill, because it will not produce revenue, and therefore will create a situation which It believes will necessitate more and greater bond issues. These two dominant, contributory Republican forces will compel the Administration to stick by its fiscal policy and program, without reference to what effeet the same may have upon national or international interests.

That the conclinent into law of the Dingley bill would have serious commercial consequences, is not doubted in any quarter. The dignified, but explicit protests of Germany, Italy, and the Netherlands, are proofs of this. Germany reminds this Goverament, in the studiously courteons language of diplomacy, that certain provisions of the proposed law are in violation of existing treaty agreements between the United States and the Empire. If these vio-Intions are enacted into law by the Congress, Germany will feel compelled to adopt measures corresponding with her interests, American breadstuffs, German imports of which alone last year amounted to $8,000,-000; of all our provisions; and possibly of all our exports to Germany, now aggregating an annual value of $94,000,000. What other countries can, or will, do to us, remains to be seen. It will be commensurate with our invane attack upon them.

For these and other sufficient reasons we venture to opine that the Republican picnic in Dingley Dell will not result in as much pleasure to the participants as they may have anticipated.

A State of War.

Several important current events have come to public knowledge within a few days, to reinforce the position taken by Senator Morgan, that a "state of war" exists in Cuba, and that, therefore, this Government ought at once to recognize the beliigerency of the Cuban patriots.

First among considerations bearing on the attuation, is the evidence that the Cuban army for some time has held, and is fortifying the scaport and town of Banes, on the north coast of the island. Before the war Banes was a place of considerable commercial importance. It was the seat of a large fruit trade with the United States and is one of the most convenient harbors of the country, having deep water at its wharves and piers. Here it was that the Roloff expedition recently landed, the steamer which carried it mooring at the docks and there discharging its important cargo of artillery. small arms, dynamite and military supplies. A strong Spanish force assailed the town at the time, but was repulsed with loss by the garrison, and the entire cargo was safely convered, under its eyes, to the several beadquarters of Gens. Genez. and Calixto Garcia. Under the Cleveland regime, the chief reason assigned for refusing recognition of belligerency was that the Cubans did not control any seaport. That objection no longer belds.

Other events concur in establishing conclusive evidence of a "state of war." Although Gen. Weyler lately announced the complete "pacification" of Pinar del Rio. the Cuban commanders Ducasse and Delgado have wen a signal victory in that province, in open fight; completely routing a Spanish column, which was com pelled to leave its dend and wounded and Its arms and ammunition in the hands of the patriots. Cuban successes are report ed elsewhere in the island, and Gen. Garcia has captured the Spanish general Aldave, which at least offsets the earlier capture, by the Spaniards, of Gen. Ruis

if the possession and fortification of an fense against an army; taken in connection with other victorious military opera tions, does not entitle the Cuban people to recognition as belligerents, in the name of justice and common sense, what would?

Daniel Wolsey Voorbees. Daniel W. Voorhees entered into rest yes terday morning. In his death, sudden at the last, although not entirely unexpected, there passes away a strong political and historical figure in the life and national volution of the present and preceding generations. Few, indeed, are the men serviving him who can say, as te could, that in early life he was the friend and companion of Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas, and practiced at the bar before Jefferson Davis, when that, also historical character, sat on the circuit bench of the United States. What better can be said of Mr. Voorhees than that he retained the sincere friendships of the martyred President to the last day of the latter's life, although the two were widely separated in political faith and associations.

He was a strong man in every sense. His leadership of his party in Indiana was magnetic, continuous, and it followed him with devoted enthusiasm to many and brilliant victories; and sometimes, with equal trust and confidence, to defeat. In the Senate of the United States, where he served for nearly twenty years, Mr. Voorhees was distinguished for his capacity for business, and his ready grasp of great questions and affairs, as well as for the gift of eloquence which marked his career from first to last, whether at the bar, on the hustings, or in the halls of Congress. His beart was great and kindly. He loved books, nature, and his friends. In the forum he was an adversary to be feared. In the quiet of the home circle he was hearty and genial. His calling away to join the great majority, whose army already included the honored names of Lincoln and nearly all the giants of his own day and generation, will leave a gap in the ranks of those who participated in and survive the political strifes, victories, defeats, and turmoils of the past forty years, that never can be filled.

In his famous explanatory speech, the other day, Autocrat Reed was pleased to say, to his eastest and most fluent manthis Administration a possibility, each will | ner, while reviewing the all-absorbing power of the Chair: "It is a power that is given to him by the House for its purposes and its purposes alone; not for any selfish purposes; not for him to carry out any personal desires or designs of his own; but to carry out the Wishes of the House as he understands them, after a faithful and conscientious examination of the subject."

Certainly nothing could be humbler, more proper, or more patriotic than these remarks of the Speaker-Autocrat. The only difficulty is that like some other public teachers, his practices do not invariably accord with his declarations and precepts. For example, last winter, a large majority of the House, including all leit twenty of the Republican membership, signed a petition asking, with the hundrity becoming in servants, addressing their master, that he would allow three days for debate on the Nicaraugua Canal bill. We are not aware that, on the occasion amed, Mr. Reed felt it incumbent upon him to "carry out the wishes of the House as he understands them." We do not re how he could acquire any better or fuller knowledge of those wishes, than was con veyed to him in that historic round robin. Nevertheless, he rejected the petition and refused the desired hearing.

There is an explanation of the apparent paradox, which does not appear to have illuminated the minds of many people, who think that the despotic sway of the Autocrat is inconsistent with the honeved language of his explanation. Therefore, we beg to offer it, in order that the character for consistency of a great and good man may be rescued from the least breath of

When the Autocrat states that all power and dominion over the House, are given him, "to carry out the wishes of the House as he understands them," he completely comprehends and includes the fact that, being himself the House, the whole House and nothing but the House, his wishes must be its wishes, "as he understands them." ipso facto, "world without end." That seems to explain the mystervi

The Bankruptcy Bill.

At length there appears to be some hope that the Torrey bankruptey bill will reach a vote in the Senate. This is a measure with a history. For ten years it has undercone a studious and laborious evolution engaging in the effort to perfect it many distinguished exponents of the best legal ability and business wisdom and experience of the country. In its present form, probably, it is as nearly what such a bill ought to be as expert American ingenuity could make it, with full recognition of all the interests, rights and equities variously involved. At the late session of Congress a majority of the Senate Judiciary Committee was opposed to the bill, but at the present one a favorable report has been secured. and it should not fail of action before adjournment. There will be ample time for its consideration while the Finance Committee is struggling with the tariff bill. If passed, it would find the House without much business on its hands, and in that body probably it would go through without any strong opposition. A similar bill was favorably acted spon by the House in the Fifty-fourth Congress. A general law of this kind is urgently demanded by the country. As far as we have been able to ascertain, the Torrey bill will be acceptable to mercantile and manufacturing interests in all parts of the Union. It will at once tend to cure nuch unnecessary distress and many hardships, and to place commercial relations upon a safer and more reliable basis. We hope to see the matter disposed of without

A Tearful Retrospect.

If Mr. Dingley happens still to be in a "retrospective" mood, it will pain him to tearn, that neither his patriotic device in that direction, nor yet the complementary one designed by the Secretary of the Treas-pry, appear to have exerted any very plarming influence in suppressing commerce. At least thirty-five large, able bodied steamships are reported as ploughing the mighty deep, under forced draught, toward the good port of Poston, deeply laden with Wilson wool and other anti-Dingley products of foreign climes.

Although facts like this may be unpleas ant to Mr. Dingley, to the treasurer of the party national committee, and to some other beneficiaries expectant, they are contratiwise, calculated to bring a gleam of hope to the people at large. One of the most important of the high protective woolleating houses of Philadelphia, that of Messrs. Justice & Bateman, is quoted as declaring that it is nonsense to predict higher prices for woolen goods, since American manufacturers all have laid in more than a year's supply. One New England concern has rented a large unused church and is filling it with wool. Throughout Boston and the manufacturing districts of the East, every sort of structure is being utilized to hold anti-Dingley raw material In the face of such movements, we have the explicit, and no doubt sincere state ment of Mr. Dingley, that the mill in which he is personally interested has not bought a pound of free wool, "so far as he knows." We have only to add that, in case he knows much on that particular branch of the subject, both he and his mill are greatly to be pitied.

Sacred Right of Forest Destruction

The Chamber of Commerce of the city of Scattle, in the State of Washington, has addressed a memorial to the Congress ask ing for a vacation of the February order stablishing three forest reservations with in that Commonwealth, aggregating as area of about eight million acres.

The memorial regards the order in ques ion as a monstrous assault upon the pride, rights, interests and welfare of the State and charges that it was made upon the representations and report of "three irre sponsible strangers, after a flying visit of a couple of days." It alleges that the new reservations include nearly the entire min ing country of the State of Washington and that their permanent establishment will involve widespread disaster to the enter prise, progress and prosperity of the whole ommunity. The memorialists denounce the reservation policy as applied to their country, generally and particularly, and demand the immediate restoration of the eserved territory to the public domain. The principal trouble seems to be that, in providing for public reservations, the Congress has not yet made provision for their utilization for mining and other legitimate purposes, under proper conditions and restrictions. That ought to be done at once. Consistently with the natural and necessary national determination to save and conserve what forest lands have been left to us by destroyers, plunderers and fires, as few hardships as possible should be allowed to fall upon the communities nearest to reservations. With a reason able and intelligent system of forest man agement, under Government control, all the use that should under any circum stances be allowed, could be, and, in that case, there need be no cause for complaint.

As between a vital and fast increasing public necessity and local interests which as in the case of the Washington memorial ists, deserve consideration, the Congress ought to be willing to provide measures fer both public and private relief without any sort of delay.

Seventy-four banks with liabilities aggre gating $12,744,650, out of total failures amounting to $60,752,561, is the tale of McKinley prosperity to the end of March This is a bad beginning, but the tariff may do the rest that Gen. Weyler's staff officer, now on his way to Washington, bears the official congratulations so generally spoken of in Havana papers.

One of the earliest results of commercial demoralization caused by the Dingley tariff agitation is a serious fail in the price of American wheat. The farmer must tol and suffer, that the trusts may have their Indifference to the importance of the Hawalian Islands as a possession does not extend beyond Washington. Because the Hawaiian government refused to allow the landing of a cargo of illegal Japanese immigrants, one of the Mikado's warships has been dispatched to see about it. Both friends and enemies of annexation may be expected to take notice of this occurrence, and really something ought to be done.

All true friends of humanity, and decominational colleges, will rejoice to hear that the Standard Oil Trust at last has neceeded in effecting a union with it only rival, the great Russian oil trust The high contracting parties will now divide the earth, and oil certificates already have risen.

We regret to learn that Senator Hanna's favorite Hunter appears to be weak in the back, although still showing excellent

The Hon. David Bennett Hill does not take kindly to the idea of the new State of Manhattan. It would be too much like digging the ground away from the roots of that grand political tree, in one of whose upper branches Wolfert's Roost is situate.

The question now is, how long will it take the Dingley catalogue of absurdities to pass a given point, if that point is the Senate?

Mr. Reed had better get a pair of golf stockings himself, if that is what is the matter with Mr. Simpson.

It appears that the circular issued to collectors of customs by the late Secretary of the Treasury, establishing regulations for the introduction of Chinese laborers to work on Chinese exhibits at the Nashville exposition, probably will let in about 2,000 of them. Secretary Gage will be compelled to act "retrospectively" and do some thing to barthem out. Retrospection is his great hold; although sometimes it must call up thoughts of former single tax views and other unorthodox ideas.

GLAD HE IS DEAD.

Mrs. Albes Reaffirms Her Pleasure

Over Her Husband's Demise. New York, April 10 .- Now that her hus dead and out of the way, Mrs. band is dead and out of the way, and Fanny, Albes is looking forward to a peaceful future for herself and children. As soon as the news reached her that Albes had been stricken with heart disease on Friday afternoon, she said: "I will pray to God that he may die before morning." He did die, this morning. To the messer ger from Bellevue Hospital, who came to ser room to tell her of Albes' death, she said: "I know what you have come for. You have come to tell me that he is dead. My prayer has been answered." Two hundred dollars insurance co 0 the woman, but it is not for this she rejoices. It is because she feels that with 0 Albes out of the way she and the three children will have a chance. She is fully able to support herself and them and has done so for the last year, during which time Albes did not live with her. "I do not bear any anger against him," she said today, "but I feel a great relief that he is gone and can never trouble me any more. It is eighteen years now since he 0 began to drink, and with drink came gleet and abuse and blows for me and 0 the children. Once he drove me to attempt nicide and once he tried to poison me 0 You can't expect that a woman who was willing to die to escape her husband should regret his death, and I'm not going to pretend to grieve when I feel as if a load had been lifted from me."

Among her neighbors Mrs. Albes has the and her apartments are neat and comfort-

AIDING DISMISSED EX-SOLDIERS. Plans of the Veteran Protective

Association. The Department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic, and the Veterans' Protective Association, a local organiza-tion, are exerting heavy pressure upon the Administration with a view to the reinstatement and transfer of the ex-Union soldiers who were dismissed from the records and pension division of the War Department. These discharged yeterans are commonly styled "Ainsworth's

This pressure has been particularly strong upon the Department of the Interior, and the delegations that have presented the proposition before Secretary Bliss have culisted the sympathy of that official The proposition is to effect a re-instate period and then to have them taken into the several departments by transfer. It is understood at the Department of the Interior that Secretary Bliss has agreed to receive into his department about twenty of these men, should their reinstatement in the War Department be effected.

ment of the old soldiers for a nominal

FELL BENEATH A HORSE.

Richard Lamb Meets With a Serious Accident on Rock Creek Bridge. Richard L. Lamb, a caterer at the Catholic Iniversity, met with a serious accident while crossing the Rock Creek Bridge on iis way to Georgetown yesterday afterboon. Mr. Lamb was riding his wheel when he ecame caught between a cable train coming one way and a heavy vehicle going in the other direction. In endeavoring to make his way out he fell from his bicycle and rolled beneath the horse. The animal became frightened and kicked the man in the face rendering him unconscious, He was picked up and taken to the Emergency Hospital. He soon recovered consciousness. Drs. Lawrence and Hooe, who treated him, alreavered that beside an ugly gash on the head, where the shoe of the horse had struck him, he had also sus

SENOR CANOVAS SANGUINE. He Thinks the War in Cuba Will Soon Be Over.

Havana, April 10 - A dispatch from Madrid says that in the cabinet council, held yesterday at Madrid, and presided over by the queen regent, Senor Canovas announced to the queen that the revolution in the province of Pinar del Rio, was near its end, owing to the continuous victories of the Spanish army, and that the government will soon present to her majesty for her signature a decree pro-claiming the pacification of that province. The Havana policebelleve it has discovered the secret revolutionary junta in this city, whose president, it is said by the police, is a Cuban lawyer named Jose Pedro Gay. Senor Gay and six other men, accused of belonging to the junta, were sent today to They are sentenced to hard labor. The police allege that they discovered in Sepor Estrada Palma, of New York, advising Gay

BIG BUCKETSHOP RAIDED.

The Proprietors Arrested and Many

Thousand Dollars Secured. New York, April 10.-Wall Street's oldest bucket shop, the Open Board of Brokers, at 46 Broad street, with an entrance also on New street, was raided by the police this morning. The news of the raid gave a great fright to the bucket-shops already made pervous by the campaign which has been in progress against them since the colof the E. S. Dean Company. Six detectives made the raid and arrested A. C. Garland, the manager; Edward T. Hibbard, and Wilbur F. Hubbell. Some of the customers thought a robbery was in progress when the detectives seized the books and safe, and fled in a panic. The arrested men were released on ball.

TREATMENT OF THE HORSE.

Students From Various States Graduate as Veterinarians.

The annual co mencement of the Veter inary School of the Columbian University was held last night in the lecture hall of the university. nent of the graduates was made by Prof. Salmon, after which Rev.

B. L. Whitman, president of the university, presented the diplomas. The graduating students were as follows: Reid Rawlingson Ashworth, of Rhode Island; William H. Bolyn, of Virginia; Basil A. Brown, of England; William P. Ellenger, of Hinois, Joseph Neilson Megary of Maryland; Floyd G. Seammel, of New York: John Shaw, of Delaware; Elbridge C. Swizer, of "Massachusetts; Robert H.

Offer of Reduced Wages.

Twitty, of North Carolina: George Ransom

Birmingham, Ala., April 10.- The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company has made a proposition to their miners, in number, to accept a reduction of 5 cents per ton on coal digging, to go into effect June 1. The mine immediate reply, but will hold meetings next week to discuss matters.

A Warning to Mrs. Green.

(From the Chicago Record.). If Mrs. Hetty Green insists on gobbling Chicago, she should be warned in time that two badly battered political machines

Coming to the Scratch. (From the Atlanta Constitution.) Mr. William E Chandler seems to be engaged in sharpening his claws for Hanna

Bestness is the keynote of the big store

Every department is pitched on the same harmonious chord. To be true to our policy we will not be undersold. Your experience proves that our values cannot be outdone. As leaders we must lead.

Men's and Youths'

Top Coats and Suits.

The spring stock more than ever justifies the name of "the finest clothing in America." Each garment is the embodiment of every element that gives satisfactionfine fabrics-fine trimmings-and honest and thorough tailoring. These Suits and Overcoats are our own make. Don't make any allowance for their being ready to wear. Judge by the highest standard you know of.

These are special offerings for Easter-where prices have been trimmed closer than usual.

Fine French Venetian Top Conts, in new shades of tan, with best qualities silk lining Ferfect fitting and tailor made.

75 for this week at

Gray Scotch Cheviot Sack Suits, all wool and stylish pattern. We guarantee the fit and the fabric good value at $10.

Men's Suits.

225 for this week at

Top Coats.

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

Tan Covert Cloth Top Coats, cut short, lined with good quality Italian Cooth, sik steeve linings. These coats are equal to what sell around us at $10.

200 for this week at

All-wool and fast color Black Cheviot Light-weight Cvercoat— with silk lining throughout—medium length. You won't be able length. You won't be able to match these coats for $3 or $5 more.

150 for this week at

Imported Tan Covert Cloth Coats, kned all through with silk, strap seams, rich facings, silk stitching —cut short—and so is the price. Really value for $29.

3-button Cutaway Sack Suits, in new plaideffect—genteel anddressy; everything about these suits speaks value beyond the price.

175 for this week at

Boys' Clothing.

Price isn't the lever we use to attract business. But worth is. We put our faith in the discriminating judgment of the mothers, and they cannot fail to see their greatest satisfaction in the superior excellence of our qualities-the reasonableness of our prices-the immensity of our variety.

Easter is heralded by a hundred novelties-exclusive and new-made specially upon our order-Brownies, Sailors, Juniors, Reefers, Middys, and Vestedos in a great array of cute and comely effects-rich and unique.

Spring Reefers. Tan Covert Cloth, with inlaid vel-t collar and big ari buttons. This is good value for $7.50. Sizes 4 to 8...... $5.00 Boys' Furnishings. Special lot of Easter Neckwear for boys. Windsors, Tecks. Poor-m-hands, and bows. New colors and new parterns. Usual 35c grade. 250

Boys' Long Pan's Suits. Boys' Long Pants Suits, in Gray Mixed Cheviot, with worsted fin-ish, single-breasted

Special price $5,00 Special price

Boys' Stylish Plaid Cheviot Long

Pants Suit, with single-breasted sick coats, lined with Italian

Cloth made with $12 50.

Special price

Novelty Short Pants Suits A lot of Brownie and Reefer Suita, a neat all-wool chevfot effects, prettily braided Sizes 4 to $3.00 at 85.

A lot of Sailor Saits, in light and medium color brown Mixed Cheriots, or plain Blacs, tasterfully trimmed—jaunt By Iashironed Sizes $5.00 shield in re-ors. Sizes 3 $6,75 Good value $6,75

Green and Rive Clay Serge Brownie and Sallor Suits—with White, Rive., and Brown Pique and Rive and Brown Silk over-collars and shields, silk-cuttroidcollars and shields, silk-embroid-ered emblems, silk braid trimmed, and Hawk Silk Scarf. The dressiest suits ever shown for 3 to $9,50 value for $13. Short Pants Suils.

All-wool Brown Mixed Cheviot Short Pants Suits, with dou-ble-breasted jackets or reefer jackets, lined with Italian piece, and braid trim-ping, on the reefer

Handsome Dark Brown, All-Wool with two pairs of pairs; sewed with silk, and made

Saks and Company,

"Saks' Corner."

for the purpose of the universal introduc-

The last convention of the Federation held at Cincinnati in December, 1896, re solved that a general agitation should be inaugurated for the adoption of the eight-hour work day May 1, 1898, and in the meantime mass meetings should be held throughout the country to discuss and agitate the question, and also that each of the National Unions of the country in lect one of its members located at the seat

The meeting last evening of the advisory

Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Granite Cutters' National Union, Bakers'

National Union, Barbers' National Union.

Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Sea

men's National Union, American Federation of Musicians, International Typo-graphical Union, Brewery Workers Na-tional Union, Journeymen Tailors, National Union, Cigarmakers' International

Union, Brotherhood of Painters and Decoand lasted nearly two hours When it adjourned the only matter given out to the public was that the advisory board had council of the Federation, and with all national trade unions, to further the move-ment, and that the request would be made to all workers throughout the country to hold mass meetings in their respective localities on May 1. Next to declare their determination to enforce the eight-hour day on as practical before, but certainly on of the headquarters to form an advisory board.

rators.

affiliation with the Pederation to se tion of the eight-hour work day.

THE WORK OF THE FLOOD

News of Disaster and Death From the Stricken Region.

Refugees Live in Tents-Several Drownings Near Helena-Help for the Destitute.

Helena, Ark , April 10 .- While the water has fallen to such an extent in North Helena as to allow people to return to their homes the situation in South Helena is not so favorable, as there the backwater from the crevasse south is rising slowly and bids fair to remain for quite a while. The water in outh Helena has attained a depth of six feet in many places, and work of every kind has been abandoned in the submerged ter-

The railroad trains reached the city through the submerged district, and have suffered much inconvenience, but they have raised their fire boxes, and made them watertight, and by this means they suc ceeded in reaching Helena, although they ome for a distance of about three mil through water that sweeps the steps of Several drownings have occurred in this ounty, by reason of the overflow. At Beaver Bayou, an eighteen-year-old boy got into a canoe and was paddling in the flood, when the current struck the craft and swept it violently against a house and knocked the boy into the water. He was drowned in sight of his parents, who made heroic efforts to rescue hi The colony of refugees is increasing daily. The site originally intended for their tents is entirely inadequate to ac-committee and their wants were soon EIGHT-HOUR WORK DAY.

of by the relief committee. One hundred cumstances this morning by the relief people were found to be in destitute cir

Mass Meeting of Workingmen Called Everywhere for May 1st. An important gathering took place at Murderer Durant Sentenced. San Francisco, Cal., April 10.-Over two years after his atrocious murder of Bianche Lamont and Minule Williams, in Emanuel Bantist Church, Theodore Durant was today sentenced to be hanged on June 11. His commodate them all. On every peak of counsel had exhausted every effort to the hills can be seen their tents. The secure delay, but the supreme court de-cision last week removed their last hope. cattle and stock are also being taken care

> Euphemism in High Places. (From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.)

Out of all the men appointed to office by President McKinley we fail to notice one who has "secured" a place. All have #### Disappointed Chicago.

(From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.) the beadquarters of the American Federation Evangelist Moody, in Chicago, preached of Labor, corner Fourteenth and G streets, on the text, "The Angel Troubled the last evening. It was the first meeting of l'ool," and a big audience sat through the the advisory board to the executive counsermon expecting an attack on trusts. cil of the American Federation of Labor

HIT BY AN EXPRESS TRAIN

An Unknown Man Killed at Severn, Maryland.

He Was Walking Along the Track and Failed to Heed the Engineer's Warning Whistle.

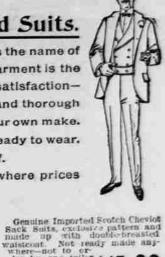

An unknown white man, about thirtyfive years of age, was struck by an express train on the Baltimore and Potomio Railroad, near Severn, Md., shortly before 10 o'clock last night, and received injuries from which he died a short time later while in a baggage car coming to this city. His body is now at the Sixth precinct morgue. Nothing was found upon his person which would in any way identify the track in front of the train which was headed for Washington, and had failed to get far enough from the truck when the ngineer blew his whistle. He was not seen until a moment before the engine struck him. Upon hearing the whistle ha had evidently attempted to step from the track and had fallen against a pile of tires which lay near the rails and had been thrown back in the path of the engine. The train which is due in this city from Baltimore at 10:25 had just gassed Acom station and was running at about forty miles an hour when the accident occurred. When the cowcatcher hit him he was thrown considerable distance ahead and struck his face against one of the ties. receiving a horrible gash, which nearly severed his nose from his face. The wheels did not pass over his body, and when the train was stopped the man was picked up unconscious and placed in the baggage car and brought to this city. A German physician, who happened to be upon the train, attempted to treat him, but could do little. Upon reaching the depot the man was taken to the Emergency Hospital in the Sixth precinct ambalance, but he had been dead at least half an hour before arriving at the institution

Cannes, April 10.-Friederich Franz III. the reigning grand duke of Meckicaburg Schwerin, who was visiting the Rivera for his health, died here this evening. He was born March 19, 1851, and succeeded to the throne on the death of his father, which der by any talker $15.00

They're worth $20. $15.00

Cutaway Coats

and Vests.

0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0.0

0.0